Introduction

The 1967 Cat's Tale staff would like to express our special thanks to several people:

To "Put" for his guidance and sponsorship,

To Mrs. Kidd for proofreading our copy,

And to Mr. Schiebout for his frequent aid.

Without these people the 1967 Cat's Tale could not have been published.

We hope that his annual will preserve for each of you a record of the past year—its activities and experiences, joys and sorrows—and that you will treasure it in the coming years as a means of recalling this special year.

Class History

Spring means one more class graduating from Morganton High School. In many ways this class is similar to those preceding it and those following. Yet, because of its individual members, it is unique. The following is a general recollection of the past four years in the lives of these individuals.

In the fall of 1963, we began four of the most important years of our lives. As freshmen we became acquainted with the peculiarities of high school life: Friday in P.E., water bombs, ablative absolutes, and study (?) halls. We enjoyed limited participation in sports, clubs, assemblies, and other school activities. By the end of our first year, we had established a place for ourselves and had begun to feel at home.

It is difficult to recall much of our sophomore year because we slept through most of it. Vague memories of our beloved Caesar, frogs, world history dates, angles and planes come to mind. At the close of our second year, we were taking part in varied school affairs. Many of us had obtained our coveted drivers' licenses. Now we were anticipating the honor of being upperclassmen.

Our junior year marked us as full-fledged members of the high school society. With knowledgeable airs we discussed atomic structure and poetic symbolism. Many of us struggled to master typing or a second foreign language. Increased activities included a series of disconcerting initiations. When the marshals, Becky Sink, Charles Conley, Linda Meyers, Eddie McGimsey, Carolyn Kirby, Charles Hogshead, Beverly Leonhardt, Richard Liebhart, Susan Williams and Johnny Whisenant, were chosen to serve at senior affairs, we realized that our class was next.

Finally, we became seniors. It seemed an eternity before our rings came. Their arrival was a formal declaration of our senior status, our leadership. This role was almost frightening. We flung ourselves wholeheartedly into our last year. Many events held sorrow and joy. This was our last homecoming, our last basketball game, and, soon, our last day of high school. We were smothered with SAT scores, college applications, English themes, and history notes. As we began to take stock of ourselves, we discovered young adults, mature and sophisticated. We were a long way from the timid freshmen on that autumn morning four years earlier.

In the spring of 1967, another class will pass for the last time through the doors of Morganton High and render one last chorus of the Alma Mater. As the last strains of "Singing praises to the sky for dear old Morganton High" fade away, another group, significant in its own particular way, will take its place in the world, enriched by its four-year stay at M.H.S.

Will and Testament

We, the Senior Class of 1967, realizing that we walk the halls of Morganton High School for the final time, do make and declare this last will and testament to bestow and entrust our few treasured possessions upon our heirs.

Article I: To the faculty and Mr. Schiebout, we leave the traditional expression of appreciation for their tolerance and guidance, and our joyful tears of farewell.

Article II: To the city of Morganton, we leave the consolation that others of our caliber will follow.

Article III: To the Sophomores we leave the thought that with our leaving they will become upperclassmen.

Article IV: To those who will soon possess the privileges and afflictions of being Seniors, we distribute these individual and collective proficiencies and characteristics:

We, Allen Orders and Billy Willets, leave Charlie Butler, Steve Herman and Hunt Riddle the right always to blame another guy.

We, Sue Byrd and Nancy Graybeal, will our talkative ways to Judy Gamble, Susan Ratcliff and Susan Corley.

I, Mike McCall, leave my love for photography to John Mode and Andy Patton.

We, Susan McNeely and Barbara Dale, leave our skill to lead boys on to Toni Brown, who already has experience.

I, Charles Conley, leave my well-used record, "It Hurts So Bad" to Ralph Johnson.

I, Charlie Mae Early, present Scott Whisnant the use of my house on weekends so the neighbors won't find out.

I, Nancy Riggs, in the event that I discard my road map to Chapel Hill, leave it to Susu Fitz, who has a beaten path of her own.

We, Susan Wacaster, Jane Avery, Pat Parnell and Lee Ann Sigmon, leave the good old 70-lb. thrust machine in the worn hands of Janice McNeely, Margaret Sakowski, Sue Avery, Mary Lou Dougher and Dixie Rollins.

I, Linda Ball, leave my enthusiasm for cheerleading to Helen Farfour, hoping she isn't asked "I Wonder Why?"

We, Hilda Greene and Jackie Hensley, leave our life-standing membership in the Lonely Hearts Club to Susan Jablonski, Barbara Lingerfelt and Nancy Bishop.

I, Tommy Rippy, leave Susan Conley knowing she is mine.

We, Nancy Prince, Ruthie Connelly and Billy Coley, leave our neatness to Karen Connelly and Mike Rader.

I, Mike Abee, leave my "Toad" Giles smile to Max Poteet.

We, Glenda Clarke, Joetta Ricks and Judy Abee, leave with our sparkling Christmas gifts.

We, Doug Lay and Jimmy Mitchell, leave our supposedly lost interest of Hickory to Susan Cash.

We, John Newton and Charlie Brown, leave with the consolation that both were losers.

We, Diana Panarese and Rodney Rasnick, leave Debbie Gantt and Mike Buff the hope that they will leave together too.

We, Philip Whitaker, Philip Morris and Bruce Webb, leave our husky physiques to Roy Blanton, Bruce Walker, and Walter Wall.

We, Jane England, Dean Wilson and Lynn Buff, leave our talents to Mitzi Strickland, Becky Bauguss, Crystal Weller and Janice Bryant.

We, Buzzy Poteat and Steve McCall, leave our discreet week-end activities to Jim Crisp and Benny Houston.

We, Donnie Lambeth and Calvin Sossoman, leave our love for the younger set to Casey Baber, Jeff Benesh and Linda Jones.

We, Mary Branstrom and Mary Frances Abernathy, leave with the hopes that others will find the meaning of a long, true friendship.

We, Becky Sink and Margaret Snyder, leave our ability for organization to C.J. Saunders, Dorothy Conley and Susan Hart.

We, Randy Curtis, Twinkle Harbison, and Florence Avery, leave our membership in Put's F.O.B. Club to Becky Ricks, Carol Cline, Margaret Grady and Linda Williams.

I, Glenn Causby, leave the one right thing that I was so long in finding . . . Robin Bounous.

We, Edith Tallent, Charles Hogshead, Carolyn Kirby and Mike Propst, leave our sense of dedication to Don Glasco and Cindy Hyatt.

We, John O'Neil and William Harbison, leave our likable personalities and athletic abilities to Harvy Brewer.

I, Earl Robinson, leave my ability to be liked by all to Don Saunders.

I, Eddie McGimsey, leave my good looks to Tom Brothers, who really doesn't need them.

We, Jimmy Steele, Bobby Hoyle, and Bobby Anderson, leave our mechanical aptitutde to Rod Gantt, Phillip Robinson and George Featherby.

I, Bobby Hogan, leave my love of football to Chuck Fleming.

We, Miriam Leslie, Christie Carroway and Mary Perry, leave our love of Marion fellows to the freshmen who have taken over.

I, Paul Thomas, leave my height which is so valuable to the basketball team to Jerry Whetstine and Bill Leslie.

We, Susan Williams and Melvina Sain, leave our out-going personalities to Lynn Anderson and Susan Irvin.

We, Linda Meyers, Nolita Fisher and Judy Simmons, leave our love for the older boys to Kitty Arney and Dereama Kelly.

I, Rex Williams, leave my school spirit to Sammy Smith and Bobby Reece.

We, Carolyn Hensley, Beverly Leonhardt and Kay Tasler, leave our love for Glen Alpine (??) boys to Gail Robinson, knowing she doesn't miss them.

We, Dickie Turner and Johnny Whisenant, leave our love for the out-of-doors to Kenneth Mull and Joe Patton.

We, Richard Liebhart and Andy Newton, leave our unfortunate luck for always being knocked out of the saddle to Dennis Powell.

We, Austin Smith and Carla Walker, leave our knowledge of married life to Linda Morgan, who may not need it.

I, Ben Powell, leave my boisterous, burping mannerisms to Crystal Whetstine.

We, Marty Harris, Lourita Tessener, Alma Johnson, Linda Barrier and George Taylor, leave our quiet ways to Dennis Deutschle, David Sigmon, Tom Smith, Carolyn Dale and John McMurray.

We, Wanda Coffey and Rhonda Braswell, leave our permanent parking place at Hardee's to Zudie Cook and Linda Leonhardt.

I, Susan Hewat, leave my beautiful eyes to Jane Dale.

We, Mike Leonard, Jerry Whisnant and Gene Duckworth, leave our Halloween experiences to Jimmy Williams, Johnny Black, and Danny Greene.

We, Dave Price, Ken Smith, Jimmy Black and Jerry Allman, proudly take our Senior jackets with us!

We, Jean Anderson and Judy Grady, leave our petite feminine ways to Sandra Issacs and Diane Mull.

I, Jane Abernathy, leave my ability always to be friendly with many boys at the same time to Nancy Phifer.

I, Janice Walker, leave my genteel approach to any situation to Debbie Greene and Rita Earley.

I, Nancy Smith, leave my fond memories of the beach to anyone who dares to have more fun than I did.

We, William Greer and Johnny Sellars, leave our trait of always missing classes to Johnny Mayfield, Jesse Wilson and Paul Chambers.

I, Bobby Bryant, leave my title, "Teacher's Pet," to Joe Bingham.

I, Rebecca Pitts, leave my poised and purposeful ways to Patrice Whisenant.

We, Joe Avery and Jack McNeely, leave our dry wit and humor to Mary Maye and Beverly Rockett.

I, Paula Roach, leave my diet pills to Linda Adams and Susan Ervin.

I, Phillip Baker, leave my nickname "Rabbit" to Carroll McNeely.

We, Myra Griggs, Harry Houpe, Jackie Conley and Larry Whetstine, leave our friendly ways to Sharon Tolson, Rita Brittain and Janet Browning.

I, Joyce Russ, leave my affection for Valdese boys to Denise Beach and Gale Propst.

I, Don Smith, leave my curly hair to Garry Shook.

We, Marie Zimmerman, Donnie Morrissey, Dianne Mills and Nancy Tate, leave our frail health to Sandra Gilmore, Mattie Chambers and Christine Brewer.

We, Robert Scott, Eddie Johnson, Roy Chambers and Tom Grady, gladly leave!

I, L.H. Kirksey, leave my aptitude for thorough management to Don Goare.

I, Dewey Bumgarner, leave my experience with election campaigns to Wayne Fonville.

I, Bo Cash, leave my multi-colored Corvair to Eddie Waldrop.

We, Brynda Crisp and Anne Vernon, leave our cheerful personalities and quiet mannerisms to Doris Whisenant, Susan Houck, and Wayne Crosbie.

I, Keith Blevins, leave and in doing so abandon my valuable position on the baseball mound.

I, Vernon Fleming, leave my studious habits to Dana Panarese.

I, Jack Barrier, leave my love for Hondas to Donald Hunter.

We, Sandra McCracken, Belinda Thomas and Gladys Morris, leave our desks in Put's 8:00 make-up class to Gerald Hicks, Tom Curlee and Steve Costner.

We, Kermit Fox, Mike Stephenson and Sandra Morgan, leave our reserved mannerisms to Dennis Ramsey and Judy Spainhour.

I, David Baker, leave a certain special person behind.

We, Tommie Largent, Henriette Largent, Clarence Johnson and Jerry Ledford, leave our love for history to Joan Rogers, Fred Cooke and Harry Ervin.

We, Ronald Haynes, Keith Miller, Jackie Thomas and Frank Taylor, leave in search of new adventures.

We, the Senior Class of Morganton, do hereby set our seal to be affixed on this the thirtieth day of May in the year of our Lord, nineteen hundred sixty seven.

Exodus

I feel the chill
And see the flame of sunset dying;
My crippled mind
Is weary from the pain of trying.
The tiny tinted window of my room
Imposes on the world a semi-gloom;
And so I leave in search of sky and air,
And freedom from the closeness and the care.

The dusky world
Of twilight thickens into blackness;
The earth is changed
Into a wideness, wild and trackless.
The starlight falling coldly from the skies
Is painting tangled patterns in my eyes;
From the mouth of night, the cave of stone,
Come images familiar, yet unknown.

Their faces fly
Into a spinning mass of madness;
The shadows reel
And stumble over stones of sadness.
While I try to find reason in the roar,
The high shrill mocking chant of nevermore
Mercilessly burns into my mind,
Damning me, then leaving me behind.

The faceless clown
Is choking gaily on his part;
My faithful friend
Removes my knife from in his heart.
The weary wounded soldier who has won
Softly sobs upon his empty gun;
A child, who bears a crown upon his head,
Treads aimlessly upon the freshly dead.

My kin of night
Your staring eyes hold not a sign.
Oh! can it be
I hold the same lost look in mine?
I clutch my throat and choke upon the tears,
Streaking through my mind with bloody smears.
A trembling hand is searching for my own;
The pleading grasp is short; I am alone.

Peal after peal
Of hellish laughter drowns my senses,
Torn from the throat
Crushing feverish, frail defenses.
I reel into the distant hot and deep,
Hypnotically I take the hand of sleep.
And let the phantom lead me like the blind
Down the spiral staircase of the mind.

Opening my eyes
I wonder why and where is now?
A pirate laughs
And slowly kneels to kiss my brow;
I feel a golden ring upon my ear,
And taste upon my mouth a salty tear.
I hear a gentle footstep far below,
And ache to call a name I do not know.

Who can I be,
Or who was he, and what is time?
Is this a soul,
Or just a sad and senseless mime?
Is this a place where I have been before,
A fragment of a fitful night or more?
Can someone tell me just what I am worth,
Convince me of my being or my birth?

My body's weak,
Yet weariness does not relieve me;
My mind cries on,
Serenity will not receive me.
The howling blackness batters down my soul,
The tiring task of living takes its toll;
Yet deep within I hear an urgent cry,
"You cannot go and leave me here to die."

I must escape
Embrace the painfree sub-existence;
I feel no spark
No life to save through this resistance.
The edge of sight presents a burning coal
A ray of redness reaching to my soul
A stray beam kindles hope and crushes fear;
The disbelief begins to disappear.

The deathless sun
Spreads light on that which just seemed doomed;
The pain is soothed;
The savage darkness is consumed;
The present seems so free, full, and alive;
Suddenly there is reason to survive!
I stroke my scars and pray now that I'm free
I'll find the God who mercifully found me.

Prophecy

Charles Hogshead

'Twas the night of the Prom, everybody was there;
They were boozing on tables and boozing on chairs
Till intoxication their minds had bereft
And sober as Virtue, I only was left—
So I think I'll lie down here in the punch bowl and go to sleep.

But hark! Everything seems to be shwirling around. I'll bet I've died and gone to my reward—Owww! All right, whish one of you wise guysh lit my shor? Boy, thish punch makes a great bed. Hey! Something's coming into focus. It looks like something from the future. Who's that? Hey, you guys, look! It's the President. Why it's—I swear this is good punch—it's—it's Charlie Brown. Hiya Charlie, you ol' shun of a . . . . .

"Where's my secretary? Miss Dale, get on the phone and call American Tobacco Co. And don't talk to their board, Susan McNeely, Miriam Leslie, Glenn Causby or Hilda Greene, either. I want to talk to their President, Jackie Hensley. Every time I want to talk to her, she disappears in a cloud of smoke. Also get our French ambassadors, Calvin Sossoman, Philip Whitaker, John O'Neil and Richard Liebhart on the phone. I must find out what they are wearing to socialite Nancy Prince's Turkish cocktail party."

"Now Miss Dale, you may bring breakfast. No eggs! What do you mean Billy Coley's cornered the egg market? Well, call up Rippy's Tastee Freeze and tell him to send over an ice cream cone. Everything is going wrong today. Oh well."

"What's next on my agenda? Hmmmmm—trip to the Library of Congress and the National Art Gallery. What new art works do they have? Let's see. Here are some new paintings by Mary Frances Abernathy, Mary Branstrom, and Anne Vernon. They're also showing the world's first foldout painting by those renown artists Ben Powell, Earl Robinson, and Andy Newton. It's called We're Having a Ball, Linda."

"Oh, by the way, turn on the T.V.; I want to watch the basketball game. It's on right after "I'm Spied," starring Ruthie and Charles Conley. Coach McGimsey is supposed to start Jane Avery, Lee Ann Sigmon, Susan Wacaster, Patricia Parnell and Edith Tallent today. I've heard that he pays $15,000 a year for that job."

"Now, where was I? Oh, yes. Today's paper lists some new books that are out. The Benefits of Wedded Bliss by Austin Smith, Carla Kendrick, Nancy and Mike Leonard, Glenda Monroe, Diana and Rodney Rasnick, and Mr. and Mrs. Michael Abee; Driving Safety in Ten Easy Lessons by Christie Carroway, Mary Perry, and Susan 'C.' Williams; Fun at the Beach by Carolyn Kirby and Joyce Russ; I Dreamed I Went to Carnegie Hall in My Chauffeured Rolls Royce (?) by Jane England; and The Care and Feeding of Figs by Johnny N . . . Would you please close that window? I can't hear a thing with Senators Jimmy Black, Mike Propst, Buzzy Poteat, Bobby Hogan, and Bobby Anderson buzzing around in Boggan Cash's new Chevrolet with a body by Fisher. Humph! They thought that they had the hottest car in town until playboy Lynn Buff got his new Camaro.

(BRINGG.BRINGG) "Oh no! Don't tell me it's time for my cabinet meeting already. Where has the day gone?—How'd thish cherry get in my ear?—Good morning, ladies and gentlemen. Shall we have roll call? Let's see. Secretaries of Foreign Affairs Beverly Leonhardt, Melvina Sain, and Kay Tasler are out on assignment. Secretaries of Health, Education and Welfare Donnie Lambeth, Tom Grady, and Donnie Morrisey are on sick call at the Avery, Thomas, Taylor and Bumgarner Clinic. HMMM.Defense? Where are Secretaries Mitchell, Allman, Fox, Price, Williams and Ken Smith? Whadya mean they're playing football? If I've told them once, I've told them a thousand times that is not the kind of defense I meant. Well, at least my faithful Secretaries of the Treasury, Philip and Robert Baker, are here. Even their names sound honest . . . I'd trust the name Baker anytime. Before we begin the meeting, let's read the minutes of the last meeting. Miss Sink and Miss Early, will you please bring the minutes in?—Miss Sink? Miss Early?—Ah, Miss Snyder. Where are my other two secretaries? Getting their pictures made?!! I knew the minute McCall started running around with Hefner's son there'd be trouble."

"Oh, well, I suppose we might as well get down to business. Gentlemen, my special committee Gene Duckworth, Eddie Johnson, William Greer, Clarence Johnson, and Bobby Bryant have come up with a plan that will make me one of the Presidential greats—National Prohibition. We'll wipe out every ABC store, bootlegger, and distillery in the country. How's that for an idea? The group in the back—Scott, Harris, Wilson, Smith? You wish to speak, Senator Steele? What's that knife for? Watch the chair!! Thud.*!!? Sorry about that. Kirksey, you put away that knife. Not you too, Lay. Get away—Et Tu! Owwwwww.....

"Hey Danny! Get that lunatic out of the punch bowl before he drowns. He keeps yelling that he ate two cherries or something. Boy, these kids! And to think they say that these kids will be running the country in a few years. Boy! That'll be the day. Cheee.

Football

When the gun had sounded, ending another Wildcat season, the 'Cats, were to look back and see that the 1966 season was a good one.

Led to a 6-3 conference and a 6-4 overall record by captain Bobby Hogan and co-captains Jimmy Mitchell and Ben Powell, the 'Cats found themselves in third place in the Northwestern Conference, after fighting through injuries and disappointments.

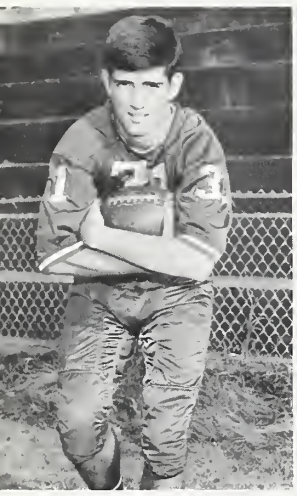

The opener for the 'Cats was a non-conference game with the East Rutherford Cavaliers, which ended with the 'Cats on the losing end, 21-14. Bobby Hogan scored the two Wildcat touchdowns with Jimmy Black making both extra points.

The Wildcats bounced back after the first game loss to shut out favored Watauga, 13-0. The 'Cats were led offensively by quarterbacks Ben Powell and Ralph Johnson, each throwing a touchdown pass. Powell passed for a game total of 180 yards. The 'Cats' savage defense was led by Mike Abee, Jerry Allman, John O'Neil, and Casey Baber.

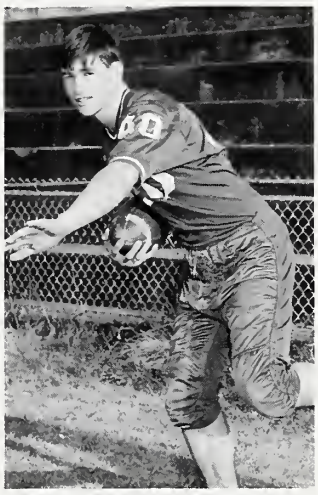

The strong Wilkes Central team defeated the 'Cats, 20-14, in probably the Eagles' hardest win. Wildcat touchdowns were scored by B. Powell and Chuck Fleming.

The following game the 'Cats again tasted victory as they edged the Lenoir Bearcats, 14-13. The Wildcat touchdowns were both set up by fumble recoveries by C. Baber and Ken Smith, with B. Powell and B. Hogan going for TD's. J. Black converted both extra points which were to decide the outcome of the game. The great 'Cat defense was led by Mike Buff, who in the last quarter, blitzed the place kicker to block the extra point that saved the game.

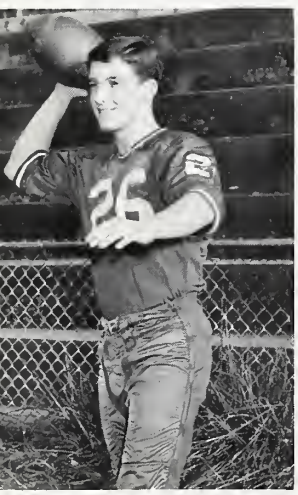

Two really great defensive plays by C. Fleming in the last thirty seconds of the game, helped the 'Cats beat the Newton-Conover Red Devils, 12-7. M. Abee and Fleming were the TD carriers. After this game, the Wildcats were very unfortunate to lose the services of captain Bobby Hogan because of an injury.

Summary

The Wildcats, behind the passing of B. Powell and the running of C. Fleming, defeated Valdese, 13-7, to keep the Tigers from winning their fourth straight game from the 'Cats. Powell threw for 170 yards, completing seven out of ten passes, two of which were for touchdowns. The TD passes were pulled down by J. Allman and J. O'Neil.

The Wildcats suffered a double wound in their homecoming game, as they lost to Hudson, 32-26, and also lost their bid for the Northwestern Conference title. J. O'Neil scored two 'Cat TD's as J. Whetstine and B. Powell each scored once.

Against Marion, the 'Cats exploded to beat the Rippers, 41-13, as Coach Broome led many reserves play. M. Abee and J. O'Neil each scored two touchdowns as B. Powell added one and passed for one. Another was made by the reserves as R. Johnson hit Robert Harbison. J. Black had a great night, hitting five of six extra point tries. The tough 'Cat defense, which held the Rippers to seven yards rushing, was led by Don Saunders, Dave Price, J. Mitchell and M. Abee.

The Wildcats lost to powerful Hickory as the Tornadoes bowled over the 'Cats, 41-7, J. O'Neil scored the lone 'Cat TD on a pass from R. Johnson.

The Wildcats played their finest football in overcoming fumbles, interceptions, and penalties to down the Taylorsville Bears, 48-12. C. Fleming scored three times and M. Abee added two. R. Harbison and Rex Williams each added a TD, and J. Black split the upright six of seven times.

Four members of the Wildcat squad were picked to see post-season action in the Lions' Bowl game at Forest City. They were David Price, Jerry Allman, Jimmy Mitchell, and Ben Powell.

Annual Staff

Editor-in-Chief, Becky Sink, explains copy sheets to Assistant Editor, Robin Bounous.

The 1967 Cat's Tale staff regards this book as a minor miracle. About this time last year the present senior staff was wondering how it would ever get an annual out. There were many problems, such as the lack of an editor, money, and general know-how. By struggles incomprehensible to a person not on the staff, we have managed to put together a book.

Work on the 1967 Cat's Tale actually began early last spring. Under the watchful eye of the retiring staff and Put, we attempted preliminary layout designs and general ideas. With the close of school we were on the way.

During the summer months the business staff solicited ads from local merchants. These contributors are the major means of financing our book. Also, the editorial staff met to finish preliminary layouts and to begin writing copy.

When school opened, we moved into the annual room, both a haven and a torture chamber. Within its four walls the major portion of our annual was formed and completed. Pictures were taken. Final layouts were drawn. Labeling of pictures, copy, and layouts was completed.

As we gathered up our copy sheets, layouts, and pictures for one final check, we experienced a feeling of loss. Something very dear to us was about to become the possession of the student body. The annual was no longer ours but was a production to be shared with each of you.

LINDA BALL
Miss Boy's Varsity "M"

On the cold, still night of October 21, the stands in the football stadium were filled with excited students and parents awaiting the announcement of Miss Homecoming for 1966. As the seventeen sponsors and escorts walked to their positions, their tension mounted. Then came the moment that all had been waiting for: "Miss Homecoming for 1966 is . . . Miss Linda Ball." The crowd burst into applause for Linda, who received her crown with tears of joy streaming down her cheeks.

A Summer to Remember

Nancy and Gulemre, her Turkish sister.

Last summer was indeed a very special summer for one of our own students, Nancy Prince. Early in the winter of '66, Nancy applied to go abroad as a summer exchange student under the Americans Abroad program under the American-Field Service. However, she did not receive word that she had been accepted and that she was actually going until after the end of school. Her destination? Turkey!

There was a week of busy shopping, stuffing suitcases, and living with the exhilarating excitement of anticipation.

Before she could realize what was really happening, Nancy had boarded the Seven Seas, crossed the Atlantic, flown over the Alps, and was greeted by her new family, the Ustuneli's: Anne, Baba, sisters, Gulemre and Cigdem, little brother, Ihya, and cousin, Hatice.

Thus, in Izmir, an old but beautiful city beside the Aegean Sea, began Nancy's experiences with a new language, new foods, new faces and new friends. She also grew accustomed to new means of transportation, such as faytons (horse-drawn carriages), donkeys, ninety-mile-an-hour taxies called dolmuses, and slow-paced camels.

It was a short summer, all too short in Nancy's opinion: yet, it was a summer of which "the memories never end . . ."
